4 ground rules:

1. Communication is the key, we all are busy w other work loads from other classes and work so lets communicate so we can help each other out.
2. Lets split the work and clear it what we do so we can finish it and ace this assignment.
3. Lets create a time line and stick to it so we can finish it before the deadline
4. If we see any of us is not doing what we are supposed to do, lets have a conversation to clear it up and finish the assignment.

3 bad experiences:

1. I was in a group that did not communicate and missed assignments due to that and caused to miss grades.
2. Not following the given tasks caused other members to switch the team and bad experiences happened.
3. Made exceptions and left people out and it created a bad vibe.

I function best in groups when we are treating each other fairly and with respect.

Communication is the key because it will help us to achieve our goals.

I really hope our group can work together and respect each other and do the work to ace this assignment.
